

Groups of 10 allowed

Today in Ontario, our government announced we are allowed to gather in groups of 10, the people within that group can change but cannot exceed 10. This will greatly help our situation with small groups looking to come up and spend some time fishing and escape from the new day to day. We must keep in mind that within this group of 10 we still need to practice social distancing as best as we can, if the 2 meter distancing guideline cannot be met, it is recommended that you wear a mask and of course wash your hands frequently.

We have had a few questions as it relates to shopping locally for guests that are at camp. We would prefer if possible for each group to bring the groceries and supplies that you will need for your stay from your local grocery store. We are offering our services, daily to go to our local stores, for things you forgot or need. There is no law against shopping locally once you are here, although we would encourage you to wear a mask if you are to shop locally and be patient as the local Foodland in Noelville as well as the Beer and Liquor store only allow so many people in at a time and there are wait lines to get in at certain times of day or near weekends naturally.

The soft opening has come together with a few surprises as we are faced with different challenges to get used to, but we have had a few guests this week and getting a routine established. We would like to ease your mind by saying, Memquisit is going above and beyond recommendations to look after you and your safety, once you are here. We are more than confident that everyone is doing their best to lower their risk as well as the risk for people around them once they leave home. We are following all provincial and federal directions and practicing what is needed for you all to have the opportunity to enjoy some time away from home.

The chatter on the Canada/USA border is that its closure to non-essential crossings will be extended to the end of July. Although we would prefer a different outcome we will need to wait for an official announcement on June 20th. With proper guidelines in place, we are anxious for many of our regular guests whom we have known for years as well as new clientele from the USA and Canada looking to come up. We will look after you once you are here and want you to have a worry free vacation.

Until we get to see each other, stay safe and stay in touch with loved ones who can't get out, its important
